

HAMWORTHY COMBUSTION Announces the opening of its Middle East office in Dubai

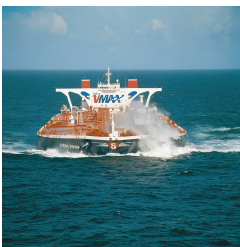

In support of our growing customer base in the Middle East, Hamworthy Combustion has strengthened our already world leading global network of wholly owned subsidiaries, by the opening of our Middle East Regional Office in Dubai.

The unit will have responsibility for:

Service: Our established markets and installations now have access to an improved comprehensive service and aftermarket support with a locally based service team trained to provide immediate response to the majority of problems that may be encountered and having direct access to full technical support from Hamworthy Combustion's centres of excellence.

Spares: There is no need to make do with soft and uncertified copy components. Genuine spares can be supplied through our local office which will also be able to help define your specific requirements

New Product Solutions: The Company operates and provides combustion burner solutions in five business sectors and is highly flexible in providing support to our client base. The opening of this facility will enable local day to day contact to be easily maintained and our Middle East office can act as a conduit for our clients in each of these sectors.
